COMMUNITY & MEDIA INVITED TO FACILITY PREVIEW EVENT

Our community members and media partners are invited to attend a facility preview event to get updates on the planned Tigard Police and Public Works facility.

WHEN: Monday, November 17th: drop in anytime between 5:30 – 8PM

WHERE: Burgess Community Room at the Tigard Public Library (13500 SW Hall Blvd.)

WHAT: See a 3D model of the current design for the first time, chat with the architect and builder teams, learn about bond options, ask questions and give your feedback! Kids activities and snacks will be provided for free.

WHO: This event will bring together City of Tigard staff working on this project, elected officials and external partners, including Otak (project manager), Scott Edwards Architecture (architect) and P&C I Perlo (construction manager / general contractor). Interviews will be available on site.

A safe, updated building will ensure our first responders can continue delivering essential services to our community when they're needed the most. This proposed bond for May 2026 will fund a new, integrated home for our police and public works teams that will allow us to respond faster and more effectively to everyday issues and in times of crisis.

By passing the proposed bond, we can also:

- Protect our first responders, so they can continue to do their jobs protecting us,
- Better prepare our city and our community for an emergency or natural disaster, including the construction of a safe, modern Emergency Operations Center,
- Improve our public safety and public works services for everyone in Tigard, whether it's responding to a street repair or a police call,
- Plan thoughtfully for our long-term community needs.
